AN INDIAN PHERMUPYLAE.

Are there twenty five white men anywhere in the world who can do killed by four companies of United States troops? asks the New York Herald Probably there are not; but it is certain that if white men had done this, if any squad of heroic pale faces had been called upon their oppressors in this style to "make way for liberty," and, burdened with not sell out, experting to b tter it, their wives and children, had burst from prison, gone through the fire of the guards and, pursued by a whole battation of trained, disciplined and well armed calvary, had maintained their flight and resistance for twelve days and only been subdued when the last man was shot down, the world would have been clamorous with wonder and applause over such gal lantry, such courage, such adroitness in the ruses of war, such devotion to freedom and such an unconquerable spirit. But the world will probably say less of these things done by the red men than it would have said if they had been done by the white convenience of your faim man And yet is not such heroic conduct more rather than less remarkable in the savage? Practically we regard it as commonplace for the men of a race reputed inferior to do acts that would have conferred im merial glory on their paler brothers. How the ages have chanted in the sweeping lines of "Chevy Cause" the achievements of "the Percy out of Northamberland;" and yet if either Percy or Douglas hold of the long end of the lever in were compelled to face it would have been so prosate a butchery as to have left no stuff for a ballad. Even the comparison with the three hundred Spartans—the most famous of all bat ties against odds-leaves plenty of honor for these Western savages, the weaty. for the Spartans were the most warof the people, while the Asiatic levies the great kingdom were a rabble of by comparison, But the Cheyennes, poorly aimed, owed all their su cess to their personal quanties, and made a severer fight, not against sheep troops. In whatever way it may be contemplated this fight has no parallel save in other episodes of Indian history, and the annals of war may be searched in vain for a more brilliant display of all the qualities that enno

Wild Hog, of the Cheyennes, who recently broke away from Fort Robison, was receptured and put in jail. He was so determined that he would not go to the new reservation that he attempted to commit suicide. This act, together with the desperation with which they fought to effect their escape, speak in eloquent terms of the abuse which they must have been subjected A general outspoken indignation at the cruelty has been noticeable all over the United States and the Indians have made many friends in consequence.

A project is on foot to give the negroes of the United States a reservation similar to that now given Indians, so that they may be able to take care of themselves away from white associations. In fact a bill has been introduced in Congress already for this very purpose. It is the general opinion that should the bill pass. and become a law the negroes would not avail themselves of it, preferring to stay right where they are. It lacks practicability.

Chinee with a stick so decidedly sharp that he finds other places pleas anter to labor in. The city suthorities tax him severely. Every wash house must pay $25, vegetable ped dlers $50, and every Chinaman em ployed in any capacity $6 per month each. If Los Aogeles can do this, and practically enforce the Chinese must-go doctrine, why can't other towns and cities? If public opinion is as strong in favor of the Chinese must-go principle, it will soon crop out in other places besides Los Ange

THE hard times and suffering among the laboring people in Eng land have led to a more careful ex amination into strikes and troubles between labor and capital. During 1877 there were 191 wrikes on the island of Great Britain. Last year there was a greater number. M the maticions have demonstrated that it all the people who engaged in these strikes were to work uninterruptedly for the next ten years, at the advanced wages for which they struck, they would not recoup themselves for the losses they sustained during these twelve months.

THE Secretary of War recently furnished the House Military Committee with a statement showing that was about 3,500. From that time to als. Adopted. 1812 it varied from 2,600 to 6 600, but in 1813 it increased to 19,000, in consequence of the war with Great Brit ain, and in the next year to 38,186. For 1815 it was 33,434. For 1816 it Prison by the people. fell to 10,000, and in 1847 increased about 10,500. From 1862 to 1864 the ings in civil cases. usual annual returns of the army were suspended. In 1877 it was 24,-000 and in 1878, 25,818.

PRESIDENT HAVES is quoted as saying to a correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial on Saturday that no decision had been reached as to tee. the Berlin Mission, It was likely, INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING however, that a selection would be made from the four names most prominent mentioned. He said the Administration hoped to get as good a man for the position as Mr. Taylor, but thought it impossible to get bet' ter. He spoke in the highest terms

THE celebrated phrase, "of the people, by the people for the people," originated, not, as commonly supposed, with Abraham Lincoln, but with Theodore Parker. This is made clear by the testimony of members of Theodore Parker's household, printed Prison. in the St Pant Pronter Prets.
